Organized Chaos

Combining discipline and dishevelment, the 1999-2000 school year at Saint Joseph's College continued to unite the traditional and the modern, creating both a sense of a deeply rooted past and a sense that we are truly going somewhere both as a college and as students. This year's Phase, the first after several years without a yearbook, represents a return to tradition, but also a rededication to our future. No one more exemplifies this combination of ritual and recreation than Father Jim Challancin, SJC's Chaplain. Sadly, the 1999-2000 school year marks the end of Father Challancin's time at SJC, as he has been called away by his bishop. With this in mind, as well as Father Challancin's tireless efforts to enrich the lives of the SJC community and his sometimes unorthodox methods, we dedicate the 1999-2000 issue of Phase to Father Jim Challancin, one of the greatest friends the students at SJC have ever had.

This Issue of Phase is dedicated to Father Jim Challancin, who stands as an icon of religious service, friendship, fellowship, strength and determination for the Saint Joseph's College Community and whose absence will be sorely felt.

All I needed to know about college I learned from my... Freshman Leader

One of the most important people a new freshman will meet during their Orientation experience is their freshman leader. Freshman leaders are chosen five months before new freshmen even arrive on campus and begin training for the Orientation experience almost immediately. Over 20 upperclassmen are chosen to guide and lead new freshmen through their first day on campus until the end of the fall semester as co-teachers for the mandatory Freshman Seminar class. During this intense experience freshmen and freshman leaders grow as individuals and as a group in their seminar class.

An Increditable Camp Out

The Fall Camping Retreat, sponsored by Campus Ministry, was a great time for Outdoor Fun.

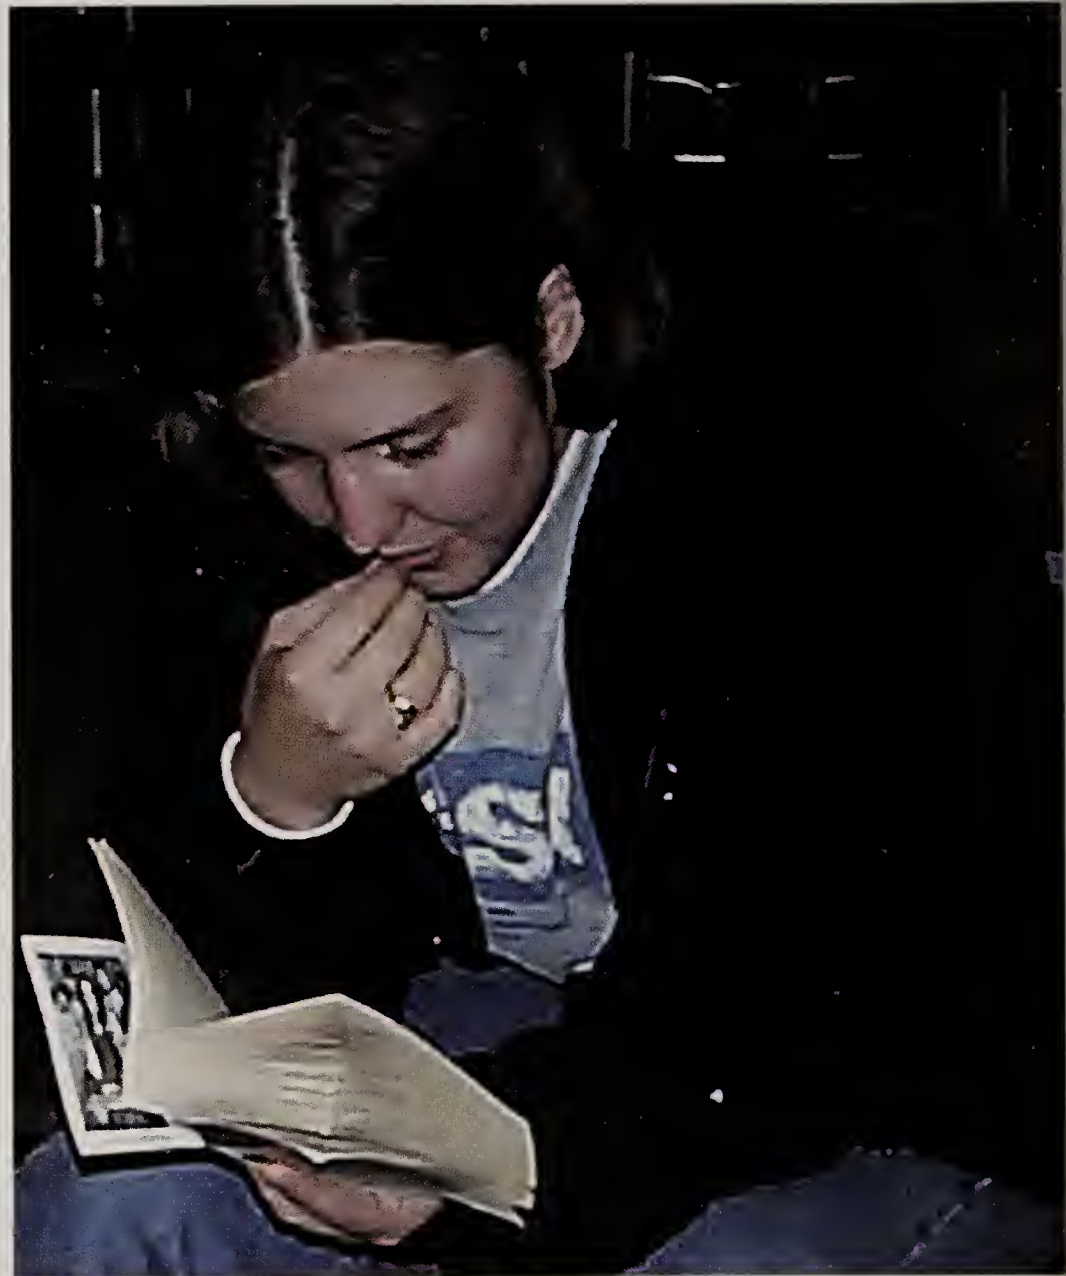

"[The Campus Ministry retreat] is a loosely structured retreat designed to get people closer to God in ways that are not possible in other settings" explained Rob Reuter, who attended the Fall Camping Retreat this year to relax and enjoy the companionship of students and friends.

Brother Tim Hemm leads the retreat, trying to create an atmosphere conducive to religious reflection.

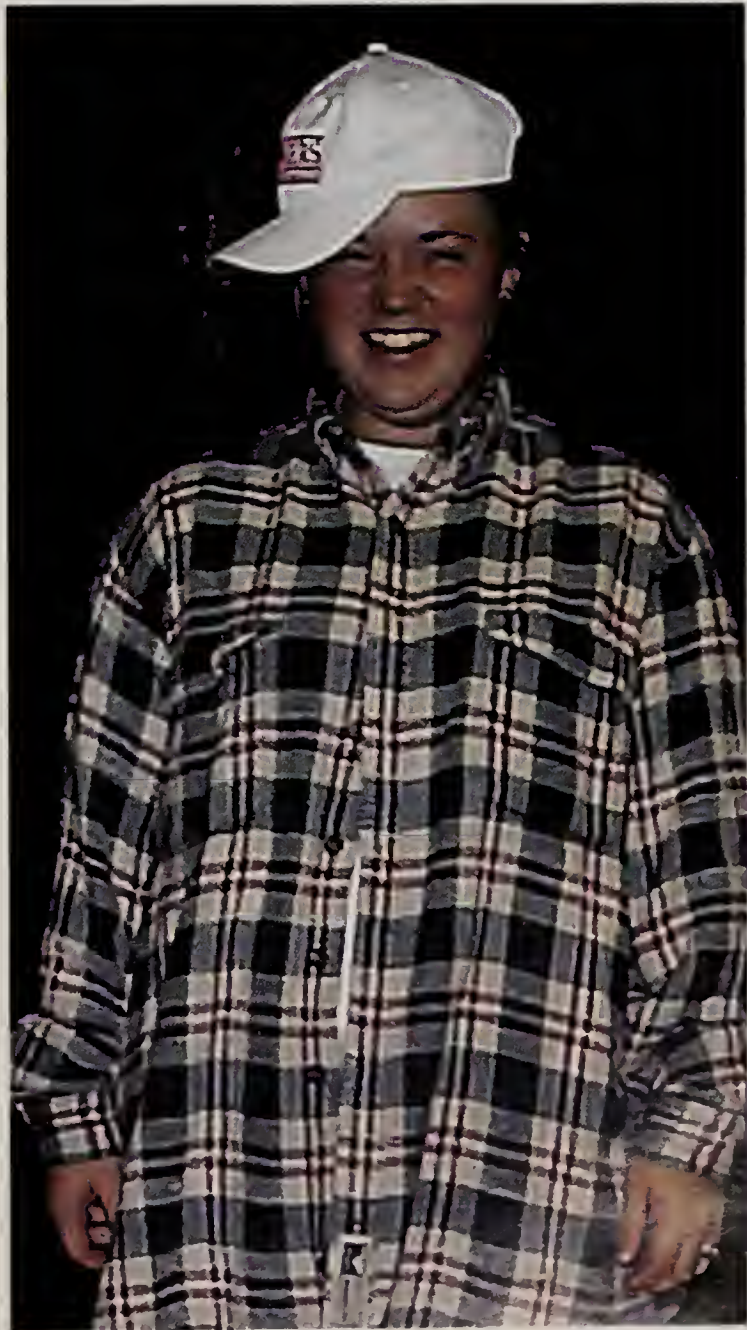

Another retreat takes place in the spring. These retreats are less structured than Kairos, which is also a semiannual religious retreat sponsored by Campus Ministry.

Students attending the retreat come back refreshed and rededicated to both religion and school work.

SJC breaks ground for a new hall to be completed by fall 2000

by Lisa Phillips

Groundbreaking for a new residence hall on campus took place on October 22nd, a chilly Friday. With a small group of students, faculty, trustees, community members and friends of the college in attendance, the speakers emphasized the positive direction that this dorm represents, explaining that this hall is only the first step in a long term process to improve the campus.

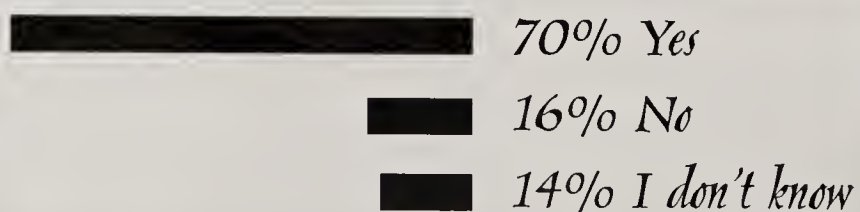

The hall, which will house 95 students, will be built as suites, with five students per suite. The suites will include a kitchenette area, living room, two full-sized bathrooms, five bedrooms and a balcony or patio.

"I'm convinced that this design will meet the needs of the students," said William Manis, Vice President for Student Affairs, who was instrumental in making this hall a reality. The hall is the result of six years of planning and study concerning the needs of SJC students. The halls are scheduled to be available to upperclassmen by the Fall of 2000.

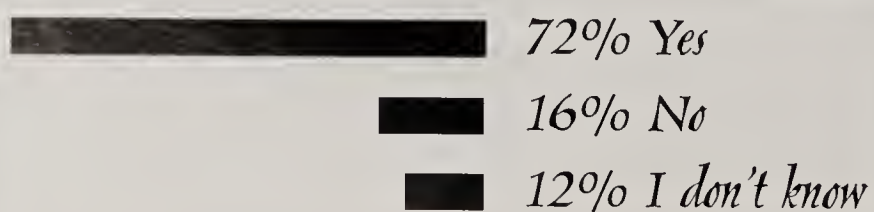

Students Sound Off

In conjunction with the attempts to improve physical living conditions on campus, the Student Affairs Office proposed that alcohol be allowed in the new suites for those residents who are over 21. A survey conducted by The Observer indicated the student interest in the new halls and the proposed alcohol policy change.

Would you like to live in the new hall?

Do you think alcohol should be allowed in the new hall?

Flash Forward

By the end the school year construction is running smoothly.

WORKING FOR A LIVING... (Far Upper Left) William Manis, Vice President for Student Affairs, and Albert Shannon, President, earn their money through a little manual labor: breaking ground for the new hall. Manis and Shannon were instrumental in making the new hall a reality. This project is only the first step in a long term 'Master Plan' which will give Saint Joe a new look. The second phase of the plan, currently underway, is the renovation of Halas and Gallagher.

Talent Show

The MSU Talent show allows students to showcase their diverse abilities.

SJC had its annual Talent Show on Thursday, November 4th, sponsored by Minority Student Union (MSU) as a means of encouraging a more integrated community on campus. Many students and faculty came to see the competitors strut their stuff on stage. Several of the hopefuls used music as their medium, while others showed some hip action on the dance floor.

The winners of the competition, however, took to the drums. Pat Shannon, Randy Wagers, and John Williams went primal with their program of percussion and winning $75. Dana Collins' dance troop came in second, $50, and The Voice of Christ came up third with $25.

SOUL MAN! (Below) Senior Mike Chen showed off his unexpected charm when he sang a romantic song by the popular Michael Engels. This was Mike's first Talent Show and, he surprised many with his singing abilities.

The Madrigal Dinner

The most magical night of the year

The Madrigal Dinner, directed by Senior Sara Reasoner, was held in December in order to finalize Sara Reasoner's Senior Seminar Project. Many different groups including the Columbian Players, Sodexo-Marriott Food Services and the Chorus joined together to perform this special event. Spectators feasted on a traditional dinner with only a wooden spoon as a utensil. Sara wanted the experience to resemble the time of the event as much as possible and even bought all the wooden spoons she could find in Indiana to make the event perfect! In the play Princess Samantha (played by Wendy Sidener) is having a ball in order to find a suitor to wed. Samantha does everything she can to prevent this task and in doing so created a very humorous night for the entire audience.

Students in Free Enterprise

Now celebrating its 25th year, SIFE is a non-profit organization that works in partnership with business and higher education to provide college students the opportunity to make a difference and to develop leadership, teamwork, and communication skills through learning, practicing, and teaching the principles of free enterprise. SIFE is an active organization on more than 700 college campuses in 48 states and 15 countries. Guided by faculty advisors, who are named Sam M. Walton Free Enterprise Fellows, SIFE Teams establish a variety of community outreach programs that teach free enterprise. Concepts such as budgeting, accounting, and supply and demand are taught. Budding entrepreneurs learn how to get their plans off the ground, and at-risk students are mentored and inspired to reach for their dreams. The organization encourages students to take what they are learning in the classroom and apply it to real-life situations and to use their knowledge to better their communities through educational outreach projects. Recently, under the direction of Mr. Scherb, the Saint Joseph's College SIFE Team had the opportunity to participate in the 2000 SIFE Regional Exposition and Career Opportunity Fair held in Chicago. There, through a 25-minute presentation, the Saint Joseph's College SIFE Team was able to showcase their educational outreach projects. source: http://www.saintjoe.edu/whats_new/announcements.html?id=679

AND THE WINNER IS... (Above) Amanda Munson, Katie Haendiges and Sarah Reasoner present humorous awards to their fellow Columbian Players at the Communications banquet.

Officers...But Not Gentlemen

This years Columbian Player's roster of officers was somewhat like a matriarchy. Due to the absence of John Rahe, the Columbian Player's advisor, for most of the year the strong leadership of these women was strongly needed. In fact, Radio Gals was the only production of school year to be directed by John Rahe. That left the officers of the Columbian Players in charge of the remaining productions, The Madrigal Dinner, President Sarah Reasoner's senior project; Amateur Night; and An Evening With The Columbian Players, both of which were variety shows.

WPUM-TV

The Communication and Theatre Arts Department at Saint Joseph's College sponsors several extracurricular activities, one of which is the television production facility. Producers have gone on to acquire tv news producer positions in network affiliates in the Midwest. WPUM-TV is subsidized by the College, and produce programming primarily for the students at SJC. TV6 News. SJC students produce a live, 30-minute newscast each week. TV6 News airs live at 5 pm on Monday evenings, and is replayed Tuesdays-Fridays. Puma Previews is shown at 7:30 pm every weekday. "WPUM-TV was a wonderful experience for me because you don't have to be a Mass Comm. major to be involved with the tv station."

Katie Haendiges

"Everyone worked really hard to make WPUM the best that it could be. The hard work and dedication that the members put into the show made it an incredible experience for all."

Derek Dabrowiak

Derek is a junior Mass Communications major/Marketing minor. As Underwriting Director, it's his job to increase revenue for WPUM. Derek interned at Indiana 105 in Valparaiso over the summer of 1999.

Joe Guzman

Joe is a first-year student majoring in Mass Communication. "Doing the TV and the radio were both good experiences for me my freshmen year and it was a good start for my career in the mass comm field."

WPUM-FM

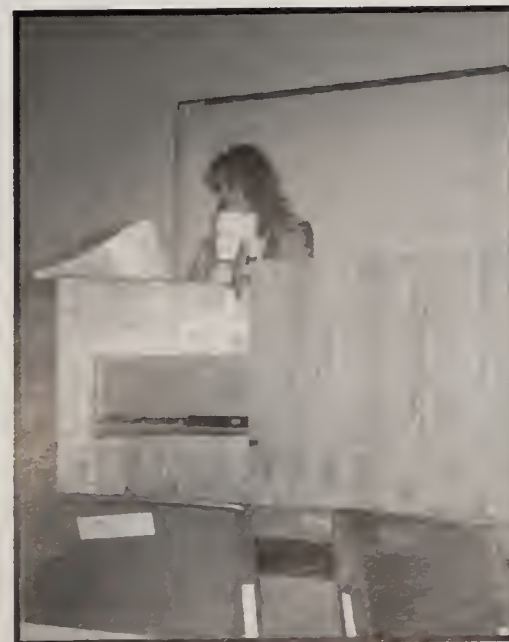

The college radio station allows students the opportunity to experience first-hand what it is like to work at a real radio station. It provides excellent learning facilities to those students wishing to pursue a career in radio. Junior Marley Miller said, "WPUM is in the process of going through various changes that span from a wattage upgrade from the FCC (Federal Communications Commission) to purchasing music by the latest artists. All these elements plus the backing of a superb management staff will hopefully carry WPUM into the millennium."

COLOR GUARD

Flagging down Your School Spirit

Saint Joseph's College Colorguard gives school spirit a whole new dimension, with its colorful costumes and combination of skill, personality and dedication. Throughout the school year the colorguard performs at sporting events, encouraging students to get behind their fellow pumas.

This year the Color guard, lead by Michelle Ottman, introduced rifles to their already difficult program, making their performances not only beautiful but also inspiring in their complexity.

BAND

Making a Joyful Noise

The ever-expanding band is a real presence at SJC.

Members of the band devote countless hours to practicing and performing.

In addition to the average band ensemble, this year's final concert, a musical version of Dante's

Divine Comedy, also included several sound effects such as moaning and stomping.

Liturgical Ministries

The Missionaries of the Precious Blood (C.P.P.S.)

The Missionaries of the Precious Blood are a community of Priests and Brothers who have joined together to live their baptismal commitment by serving the needs of the Church as those needs develop from age to age and from place to place. Rather than being bound by traditional vows, we are united by a special bond of charity or what may be called the "centripetal force of the bond of charity." Rather than being defined by one kind of work, our identity comes from a ministry of the Word of God and from a special devotion to the Precious Blood. The ministry of the Word is the same as Pope John XXIII's call to the Second Vatican Council to bring contemporary culture into dialogue with the gospel, and the devotion to the Precious Blood is the celebration of the central mystery of all Christianity, the Pascal Mystery. There are three special words that communicate our particular charism and prepare the way for an understanding of our mission at Saint Joseph's College.

Campus Crusade for Christ

Campus Crusade for Christ (CCC) is an interdenominational ministry committed to helping take the Gospel of Jesus Christ to all nations. The ministry cooperates with millions of Christian organizations of many denominations around the world to help Christians grow in their faith and share the Gospel message. The CCC organization is in its first year here at Saint Joseph's College, and off to a fantastic start. With the help of CCC representatives who are on staff at Purdue University, CCC has established a weekly bible study open to everyone on campus. It has been an exciting time of getting to know new people and growing in personal faith. In addition, CCC has been committed to meeting weekly in a time of prayer for Saint Joseph's campus, faculty and staff, students and community.

The SJC Habitat chapter was very active during this school year. Along with their traditional spring break trip, they also had a building project in November as well as several weekend trips to LaPorte and Rockford, Illinois. In November a group went to Rocky Mount, North Carolina to help re-build some Habitat houses that were damaged from the recent floods. Theresa Kreinbrink, a student on the trip said, "It was heartbreaking to see some of the families' belongings ruined. I couldn't begin to imagine what these people had gone through." This project was very different from the usual projects in that instead of building things, most of the time that was spent there was tearing things down to make way for the new building materials. Several students gave up the first couple days of their Thanksgiving breaks to go on this eye-opening trip. The chapter's advisor, Fred Berger was "impressed in the students' willingness to give up their break to help total strangers out."

WE'RE MAKING PROGRESS!!! (Above) Can you believe that all this was done in just one day? At the end of the first day, all of the framework was finished as well as all of the interior walls. With a combination of beautiful weather and hard work, a lot of things were accomplished. photo courtesy of Theresa Kreinbrink.

Habitat for Humanity

The SJC Habitat Chapter has been active since March, 1991 and Fred Berger, who has been the advisor since 1998, said, "Our two big goals are for the chapter to build its own house and also to sponsor an international trip."

AND ON THE THIRD DAY...(Above) On the third day of work, all of the pieces of OSB (plywood) were on the house. Also, the trusses for the roof were hauled up and put into place. In this picture, several students make sure that the plywood is even so that when the siding is put up, it will also be even. photo courtesy of Theresa Kreinbrink

WHAT A GREAT PLACE TO GET A SUNTAN!!! (Above) Toward the end of the week, the finishing touches are put on the roof as well as on the siding. Education Club

The Education Club provides greater recognition and opportunity for advancement for its members; promotes the spirit of the college; and further educates its members in the profession of teaching and better prepares them for their careers. This year the Education Club worked with Gallagher Charitable Society and donated toys, money and time to area children during the Christmas season. The Fall Festival was another event this club organized to cater to children in the surrounding community. Next year the officers are planning to create a Saturday Academy for any interested child in the area.

Environmental Club

Environmental Science is a dynamic, rapidly changing field of vital concern to all. Decisions made now as a nation and as a world will affect generations to come. Because our Earth is becoming more interconnected and, in essence, smaller, we hear and see environmental degradation and tragedy virtually every day. The Environmental Club is dedicated to the promoting the environmental awareness and education of its members and the College community. text courtesy of Dr. Bob Brodman

Sports Rules that were made to be broken

* SOCCER: Before 1925 the Laws of the Game stated it was illegal for a player to be nearer his opponent's goal line at the moment the ball is kicked unless there were three of his opponents between him and their goal (including the goalie). A one-word change from "three" to "two-player offside rule", re-invented soccer strategy for the next three decades.

* BASEBALL: In the 1960s pitchers threw from a 15 in. mound which led to batter averages of .237. To balance the scales, the league's rules committee voted to lower the mandatory pitching to 10 in. and slightly narrow the strike zone.

1999 Football Season is a Learning Season for the Pumas

This year the 1999 Puma football players had an up and down season. The team began their season on a low note with a loss to University of Indianapolis. However, that same team brought a Homecoming victory home for their Puma family. They also pulled together in the end to beat Wayne State University. This just proves that practice does not always make perfect, but it does increase the likelihood of winning!

KICKING OFF FOR THE PUMAS NUMBER 22, ERICH HITZEMAN... (Left) During this year's season, Hitzeman kicked 60 punts for a total of 2121 yards, which equals an average of 35.4 yards per punt. Erich Hitzeman also attempted 20 extra points (points after touchdowns) and made 15 of those same points. Erich was also the team's leading scorer with 42 points. In addition to these honors, Hitzeman was also named to the 1999 GTE academic All-District V College Division Football First Team. photo by Charles Martin

Football

I WOULD HATE TO BE AT THE BOTTOM OF THAT... (Below) Six players for SJC tackle the guys from University of New Haven. Is this what football is all about - lots of men piling up on each other? If men want to get all touchy-feely, why don't they just learn how to crochet? It would save parents from paying all those medical bills. photo by Sean Egan

I'VE GOT IT... (Right) Senior David Ortiz is ready to receive the ball from one of his fellow Pumas. Ortiz had six interceptions in the 1999 season for a total of 62 yards. David Ortiz was also listed in the Defense top 5 with 45 tackles and 25 assists. Will David catch this pass? According to the stats, probably. photo by Charles Martin

KICKING THEIR WAY TO VICTORY

The Puma soccer season ended with wins for men's and women's soccer teams. Senior forward Mary Reid was named to the 1999 All-American Team for the third year. Reid scored 33 points on 14 goals and 5 assists. Reid was also a starter in all 19 games. Senior Lori McKinney and Reid were named to the All-Great Lakes Valley Conference First Team. The Men's team had some young stars of their own. Freshman forward Paul Saunders led the team in goals scored.

Different years and positions- similar rewarding experiences

"Kairos was one of the best experiences of my life. I learned a lot about my faith and became more understanding of other people's feelings through my experience."

*Freshman Retreatant
Kris Dougherty*

"Kairos is a lot of fun. You meet a lot of new people and make a lot of friends. It is a time to reflect on what your goals are in school, your moral goals, and goals for when you graduate. You come back to school ready and refreshed."

*Sophomore Leader
Chris Campbell*

"Being a co-rector on Kairos was such an awesome experience. The retreatants I met and the team I got to work with including Jeremy Hoy as the other co-rector, truly changed my life. The weekend was a testament to seeing Christ in one another."

*Junior Rector
Lizz Musick*

"People have said that Kairos is, in some ways, indescribable. It was both inspiring and comforting to be a part of this spiritual and life-changing experience. I am truly appreciative of having the opportunity to participate and I encourage others to do the same."

*Adult Leader
Lori Bolden*

KAIROS XXVIII

"God's Time" is spent by dozens of Saint Joe students, staff and faculty January 26-29, 2000

Kairos retreats are usually offered twice yearly for the benefit of the Saint Joseph's College community. The Kairos retreat is a very intense, four-day retreat experience that is held at a retreat house away from campus. It is a time where bonds are formed between all participating retreat members. People who attend the retreat make the decision to live their lives for God and bring Him into the lives of others.

This year 21 students signed up to attend the popular retreat and 18 students were chosen as leaders. Two rectors headed up Kairos along with several adult leaders and cooks.

Each year Saint Joe's male students compete for the title of Mr. Puma. While the final decision is that of the judges, the contestants try to improve their chances of being crowned Mr. Puma through mini-competitions. These mini-competitions include formal wear and flex competitions, a question and answer segment, & a talent portion. After the q & a portion of the show, the Little 5 queen crowns the new Mr. Puma.

The 37th Annual Little 500 Race

April 15, 2000

While this year was the 37th year for the student go kart race, it was only the 7th year for alums of SJC to come back to race. This year there were 12 alumni drivers. There were also 12 current students that participated in the race, 6 of which were rookies! With the remaining six drivers having at least one year of experience, it is hard to imagine that rookie, Chris Whitacre could have won, but he did!

Class of 2000!

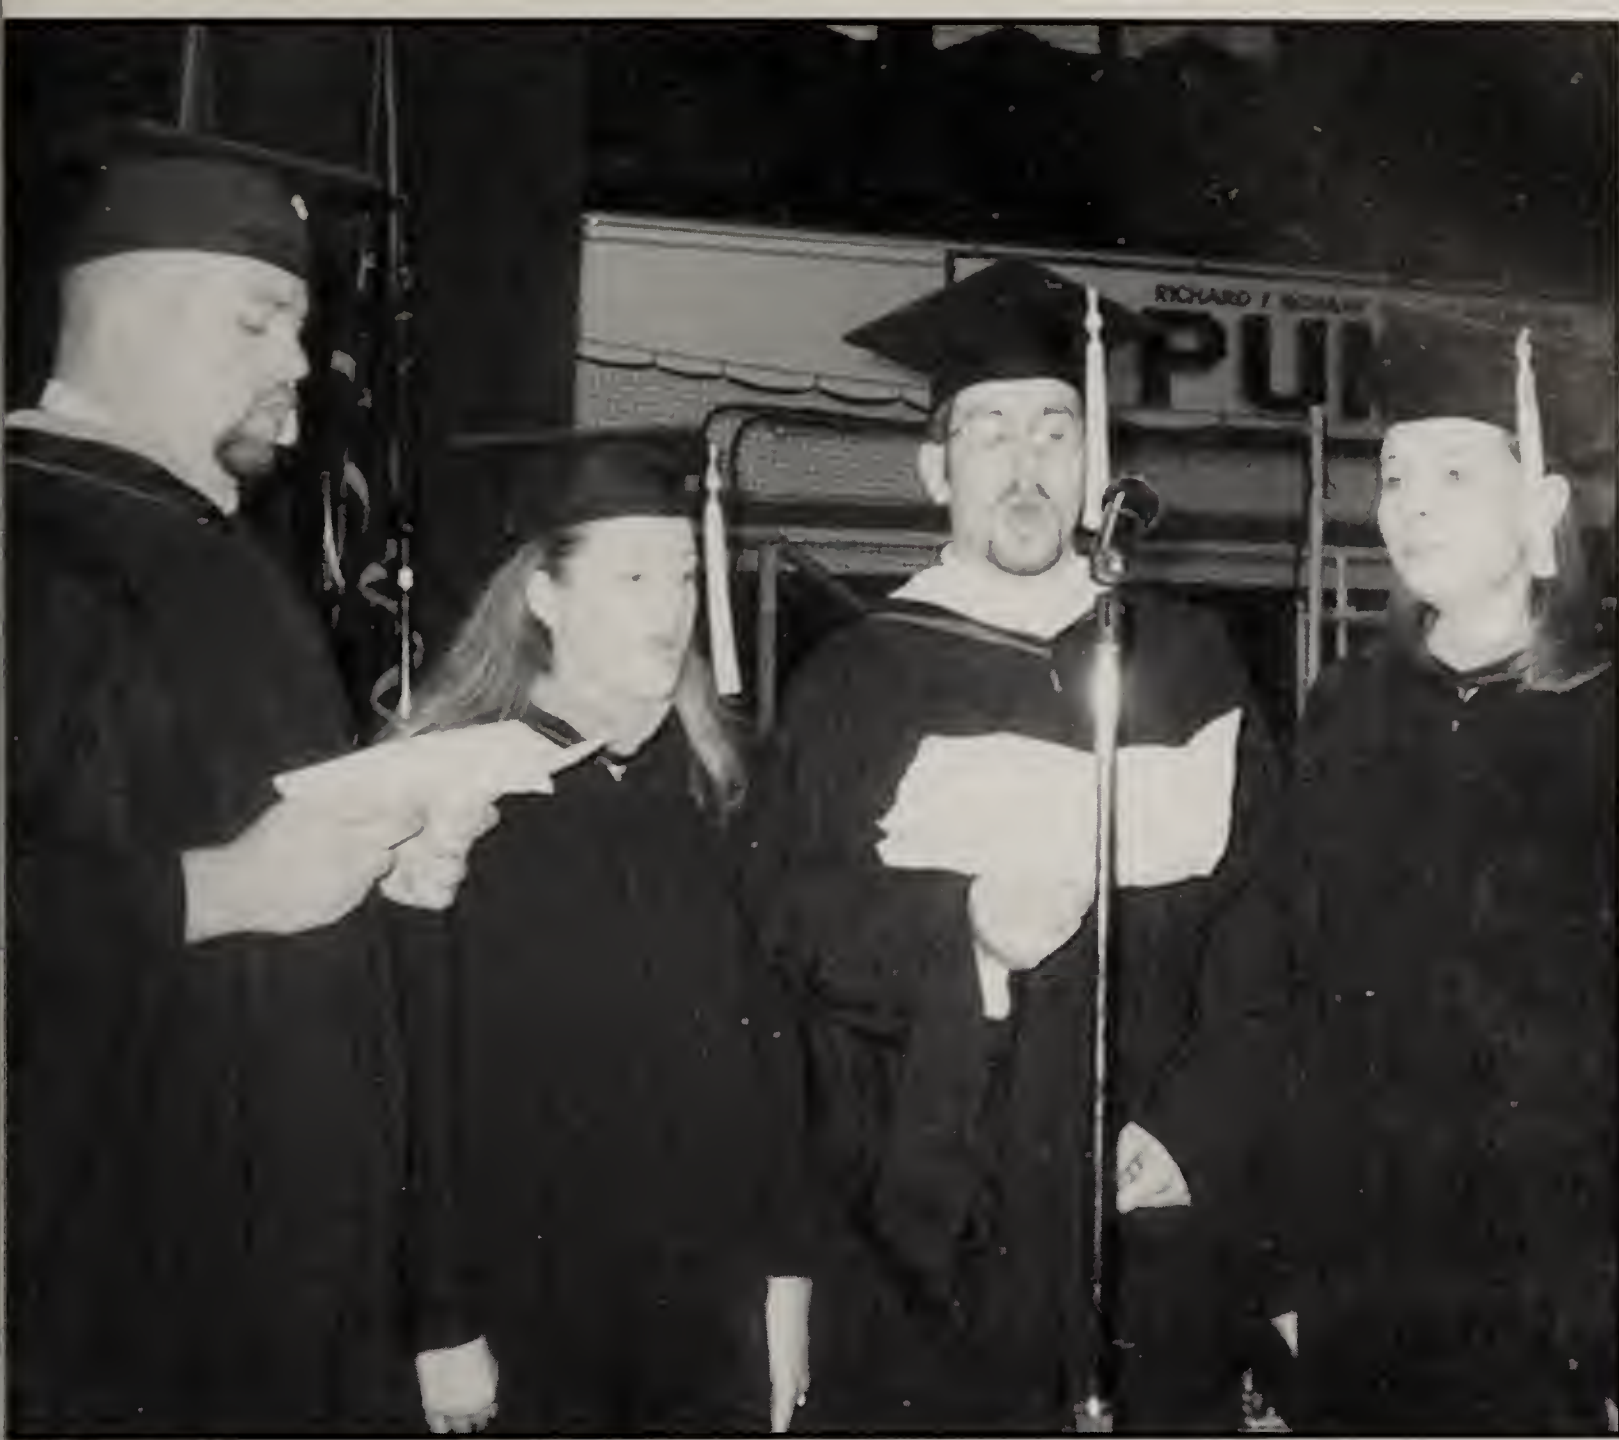

Graduation is a special time for the students of SJC and their families. The weekend-long celebration kicks off with the annual diploma signing party at Skip and MJ's house. After all the celebrations are over, the degree candidates take a final walk to a stage in the gym and hold in their hands the key to their future, the long awaited diploma.

SO MUCH TO DO, SO LITTLE TIME... (Below) Dr. Pfaff, Dr. Chattin, and Fr. Jim are busy lining up the soon-to-be graduates. Was it this hard to get them lined up when they were in kindergarten?

Dear Chrissy:

We all have dreams. The thing about dreams is sometimes we get to live them out and that is what has happened to us because you are our daughter. We always dreamed and talked about having special children, a kind, caring and loving person we would be proud of. That is you. Thank you for making our dreams come true.

"To laugh often and much; to win the respect of intelligent people and the affection of children; to earn the appreciation of honest critics and endure the betrayal of false friends; to appreciate beauty, to find the best in others; to leave the world a little better; whether by a healthy child, a garden patch or a redeemed social condition; to know even one life has breathed easier because you have lived. This is the meaning of success."

Our Infinite Thanks To...

Phase Yearbook would like to thank all of the people who made this 2000 edition possible. Gratitude especially is extended to Marge McIlwain, Brother Tim Hemm, Sylvia Kline, Dani and Darci Ramirez, Joe Danahey, Fr. Jim Challancin and the SJC website for the millions pictures you all shared with us and the countless names you provided. Thanks to The Student Association and Student Senate, Bill Manis, Phil Page and Jostens, Indiana School Pictures, and the countless advertisers who helped fund this book. Thank you to our staff members Melinda Burdan, Roger Burns, Erin Burton, Sean Egan, Theresa Kreinbrink, Charles Martin, Lisa Phillips, Sandy Rivera, Aimee Rogers, and Sarah Stipher for your time to what seemed like an endless project. Finally, a very special thanks to our adviser, Stacey Lazenby, who was always there to support the staff and never failed to contribute to the "Organized Chaos" throughout the office!

In memorandum of freshman Jon Northcutt who passed away in June 2000.
